Wild Salmon on Parade

Wild Salmon on Parade™ is inspired by the example and spirit of Soul Salmon (Olympia, 2001) and Cows on Parade (Chicago, 1999). Following Olympia's example, Wild Salmon on Parade has teamed up with organizations and artists to place large, wildly decorated fiberglass fish sculptures (not cows) in Anchorage. Emulating Nature's Gift of Wild Salmon, the project's goal is neither to make nor lose money, but to nourish local culture. The fish will be on display in downtown Anchorage June through August.

Wild Salmon on Parade benefits:

- Camp Fire USA Alaska Council
- Alaska Conservation Foundation
- Anchorage Concert Association
